Fun with the Ukulele

When: Wednesdays 1:00 PM - 2:00 PM

September 5 – December 12

Classes meet at Caryl Community Center, Room 108

Come learn basic chords and strumming on the ukulele to accompany traditional folk songs and more modern songs. Bring your own ukulele or rent one at Needham Music (781-453-8067). No experience is needed; join us to learn something new and have fun with music.

Daniel Metraux leads ukulele groups in local towns and is now in Dover. New students are always welcome!

Landscaping Experiences and Trends

When: Mondays 10:00 AM – 11:30 AM

September 17, 24

Classes meet at Caryl Community Center, Room 108

In this two-session discussion, well-known landscape designer Kevin Doyle will share many of his experiences during the 40 years he has worked in Dover and the surrounding area. In addition, he will discuss trends in the landscape world, some delightful and others unsustainable, while looking at an ethical approach to nurturing our environment.

Kevin Doyle, noted landscape designer, author and lecturer, is the owner of Cairn Croft, a 2½-acre private garden in Dover. In it, Kevin displays a dual passion for gardens and art.

Masters of the Italian Renaissance

When: Wednesdays 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

October 24, 31, November 7, 14

Classes meet at Dover Library Community Room

Leonardo, Michelangelo, Raphael, Donatello—even today, these names are familiar across generations as some of the most well-known artists in history. In this course, we will look more closely at their lives and works, exploring the historical context of Renaissance Florence and the personal and professional events in their lives that shaped their best-known works of art. We will look at a different artist each week through the lens of art history and biography.

Lindsay Alberts holds a PhD in art history from Boston University, as well as degrees from University College London and Georgetown. She teaches art history at multiple Boston schools and at the MFA in Boston.

Writing Your Memoirs

When: Thursdays 10:00 AM - 11:30 AM

September 13, 27, October 11, 25

Classes meet at Caryl Community Center, Room 108

Everyone has a story to tell, whether from childhood or adolescence, or from a more recent stage of life. In this workshop, we will read and discuss a few brief excerpts from published memoirs. We will explore key elements including how to come up with material and how to develop characters, details, structure, plot, conflict and dialogue. Students will work on a short autobiographical story over the four class meetings. We will read and discuss some of each participant's memoir writing in a supportive class environment.

Lynne Spigelmire Viti, JD PhD, is a senior lecturer in the Writing Program at Wellesley College. She is the author of many scholarly publications and has also published poetry and fiction in many online and print literary journals.

Second Amendment: Not Just a Right but a Story

When: Thursdays 1:30 PM - 3:00 PM

September 20, October 4, 18, November 1

Classes meet at Dover Library Community Room

In the minds of many people, the Second Amendment is about the right to bear arms. But who has that right and why? It would be fun to look into the minds of those who drafted the Bill of Rights to see what they were thinking. But since we cannot do this, we will have our fun in discussing the origin, history, and current use of this amendment—and whether we need to amend it! Short readings will be provided.

Maud Chaplin received her Professor of Philosophy Emerita from Wellesley College where she taught for 44 years. She has an undergraduate degree from Wellesley College and her MA and PhD from Brandeis University.
